celebrate ambition and value the achievements of all.
We recognise the importance of kindness, the value of friendship and our role in making a difference to God's world.*

Privacy Notice (How we use pupil information)

St Patrick's RC High School needs to collect information about its pupils and parents so that we can deliver education and meet the needs of the children that attend our School. This document has been prepared to tell you when we collect information about parents and pupils and why we need to do so. We call this document a "privacy notice" as it sets out how information is used by the School. It is the common name referred to a document which sets out this kind of information to individuals. We have prepared a more detailed Data Privacy Policy to explain in more detail the way we must use data and what we must do with it when we have it. This policy can be accessed on our website.

Under the law, the School is known as a "Controller" of the data it handles about individuals. This is because the School determines when and how we collect information and how it is to be used once collected.

The categories of pupil information that we collect, hold and share include:

- Personal information (such as name, unique pupil number and address)
- Characteristics (such as ethnicity, language, nationality, country of birth and free school meal eligibility)
- Attendance information (such as sessions attended, number of absences and absence reasons)
- Medical conditions (Medication, allergies, care plans)
- Special Educational Needs
- Free School Meals/Pupil Premium/Looked after Children
- Consent Forms (Photographs, Trips, Biometrics)
- Assessments (CATS, Dyslexia Screening, Literacy & Numeracy)
- Emergency Contact Details
- safeguarding information (such as court orders and professional involvement)
- behavioural information (such as exclusions and any relevant alternative provision put in place)
- biometric information for our cashless service

- Photographs and CCTV images
- Accident reports
- Assessment and attainment information (including test, exam and other assessment results)

This list is not exhaustive and we will add to it from time to time to cover the key categories of information that we process. For further information, please contact our Data Protection Officer and see our Data Privacy Policy.

Why we collect and use this information

We use the pupil data:

- to support pupil learning
- to monitor and report on pupil progress
- to provide appropriate pastoral care/safeguarding
- to assess the quality of our services
- to comply with the law regarding data sharing
- to enable the pupil to attend trips, use cashless catering, participate in school photographs
- to support pupil's health/inclusion
- to support pupil's wellbeing
- to provide information to the Department for Education and relevant Local Authorities as and when required by the law
- to enter pupils into examinations
- to communicate with parents and others involved in the education and care of the pupil

The lawful basis on which we use this information

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing pupil information are:

- for the purposes of delivering pupil education in accordance with the legal basis of performing a task in the public interest
- to meet a legal obligation placed on the school to collect information on attendance, admissions and other areas as prescribed by laws
- in the vital interests of pupils or parents to ensure we can react speedily in certain circumstances that require immediate responses
- consent when we are processing biometric finger print data for our cashless services or using images of children on our website, in our prospectus or through social media channels that we maintain.

In addition, concerning any special category data:

- when there is a substantial public interest, for example, to share information with a multi-disciplinary team to protect the welfare of a pupil
- when we have explicit consent to process biometric data.
- when we are establishing or defending our legal rights.

Collecting pupil information

We collect pupil and parent information when a pupil joins our school through initial admissions paper work. We also track pupil progress during their time through homework, classwork and assessments. Information may also be collected through applications and use of our computers so that we can monitor performance of pupils. In particular we monitor IT use to ensure pupils are kept safe and do not access unsuitable material or third party website which could risk their welfare.

Pupil and parent information is essential for the schools' operational use. Whilst the majority of pupil information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with the General Data Protection Regulation, we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain pupil information to us or if you have a choice in this.

Storing pupil data

We store information in paper based files and electronically on computers and our network. We hold data securely for the set amount of time in accordance with recommended retention periods. Information about our retention periods can be requested from our Data Protection Officer.

Who we share pupil information with

We routinely share pupil information with:

- schools that the pupil's attend after leaving us
- our local authority
- the Department for Education (DfE)
- SIMS
- CPOMS
- Homework applications
- Medical professionals
- Police
- Exam Boards

Why we share pupil information

We do not share information about our pupils with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Department for Education

The Department for Education (DfE) collects personal data from educational settings and local authorities via various statutory data collections. We are required to share information about our pupils with the Department for Education (DfE) either directly or via our local authority for the purpose of those data collections, under section 3 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

All data is transferred securely and held by DfE under a combination of software and hardware controls, which meet the current government security policy framework.

For more information, please see 'How Government uses your data' section.

Youth support services

Pupils aged 13+

Once our pupils reach the age of 13, we also pass pupil information to our local authority and / or provider of youth support services as they have responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996.

This enables them to provide services as follows:

- youth support services
- careers advisers

A parent or guardian can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth is passed to their local authority or provider of youth support services by informing us. This right is transferred to the child / pupil once he/she reaches the age 16.

Requesting access to your personal data

Under data protection legislation, parents and pupils have the right to request access to information about them that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, or be given access to your child's educational record, contact our Data Protection officer.

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- a right to seek redress, either through the ICO, or through the courts

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, we request that you raise your concern with us in the first instance. Alternatively, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>

How Government uses your data

The pupil data that we lawfully share with the DfE through data collections:

- underpins school funding, which is calculated based upon the numbers of children and their characteristics in each school.
- informs 'short term' education policy monitoring and school accountability and intervention (for example, school GCSE results or Pupil Progress measures).
- supports 'longer term' research and monitoring of educational policy (for example how certain subject choices go on to affect education or earnings beyond school)

Data collection requirements

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example; via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

Much of the data about pupils in England goes on to be held in the National Pupil Database (NPD).

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department.

It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>

Sharing by the Department

The law allows the Department to share pupils' personal data with certain third parties, including:

- schools
- local authorities
- researchers
- organisations connected with promoting the education or wellbeing of children in England

- other government departments and agencies
- organisations fighting or identifying crime

For more information about the Department's NPD data sharing process, please visit:

<https://www.gov.uk/data-protection-how-we-collect-and-share-research-data>

Organisations fighting or identifying crime may use their legal powers to contact DfE to request access to individual level information relevant to detecting that crime. Whilst numbers fluctuate slightly over time, DfE typically supplies data on around 600 pupils per year to the Home Office and roughly 1 per year to the Police.

For information about which organisations the Department has provided pupil information, (and for which project) or to access a monthly breakdown of data share volumes with Home Office and the Police please visit the following website: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/dfe-external-data-shares>
